

Elizabeth Abiola Bayere

July 7, 1971 - March 1, 2022

A LIFE TO BE REMEMBERED

Precious in the sight of the LORD is the death of his saints ~ Psalm 116:15

Elizabeth Abiola Bayere was known to be a loving, caring, selfless, committed, and dedicated Christian who served and walked with God with passionate heart. Her passing grieves our hearts but transitioned her to the eternal rest and glory of the LORD her redeemer.

ROOT: Elizabeth Abiola Bayere was born July 07th, 1971 to the family of Mr. Ehinmero Joshua Omonijo and Mrs. Omoloma Julianah Omonijo in Okitipupa, Nigeria.

CONVERSION, COMMITMENT AND MARRIAGE:

Elizabeth gave her life to Christ on one of her birthdays when a soulwinner asked her “if you were to die today, where would you spend eternity?” She served the Lord fervently in multiple capacities at the Redeemed Christian Church of God in Nigeria before she got married on May 26, 2001. She joined her husband and served the Lord faithfully at the Deeper Life Bible Church in Nigeria and in the United States at the Minnesota and Florida locations of the church until her passing to glory. Among other roles and functions, she worked in the children section of church to nurture the little ones in the things of the Lord.

EDUCATION & CAREER:

Elizabeth Bayere obtained her Associate and Bachelor's degrees in Nursing from the Miami Dade College, and her Master's in nursing from the Florida Atlantic University. She was a registered nurse and worked with the VA Medical Center as Assistant Manager until her passing

TRIBUTES TO A LIFE TO BE CELEBRATED

I have no sufficient words to describe the invaluable worths of my precious wife to me. She was more than a wife – she was my sister, my friend, my partner, and much more!

“Precious, our love for each other is indescribable. For a little short of 21 years, we shared our lives together – in pains and pleasures, in struggles and successes, in labor and love, and above it all, in the joy of the LORD our redeemer. You left me in the world too soon than we planned, but I yield to the will of our Savior who called you home to begin your eternal rest earlier than we expected. You are in better hands and better place.

My Dear, you are a winner – you lived for God in the world and left the world of vanities to be with God in His glory. I will forever miss you until I see you again at the feet of the LORD. You kept the faith to the end, and by the grace of God, I promise I will keep the faith to the end, so I can enter the eternal rest you are now enjoying.

I love you, and I know you loved me and our LORD until your last breath. Rest in perfect peace, and I will see you in glory when my race here is done according to the perfect plan and purpose of the LORD.”

- Michael O. Bayere (Husband)

My sister, my friend, our lives have been brought together for a reason and for that I am grateful. My dearest gift from God was when He made you, my sister. I love and I am always amazed by your infectious and gentle smiles.

We have loved and cried and found a bond that is everlasting. Thank you for being a role model. I am grateful for your wisdom, friendship, strength, and hope you shared with me. Continue to rest at the feet of your Creator and Savior.

- Dare Omonijo (Brother, London)

Beloved daughter and sister in Christ - Elizabeth, it aches my heart to truly know that you are no more with us here on this side of eternity. You were brave, hardworking, and God-loving. You were a keen lover of Deeper Life Bible Church. Only heaven will understand why you had to leave us so suddenly.

We

surely will miss your smile, ingenuity, and devotion. Good night.

- Pastor Michael A. Dada (Regions Overseer, DLBC)

“ Dear Liz. Wow, your passing caught many of us in disbelief. It was just a couple of weeks ago that i told someone that i was thinking a lot about you. That to tell you personally.
I knew you were having a hard time but amazingly what i heard from you was gratitude and a very strong faith in God. You were having discomfort yet you were there to provide comfort in my times of loss. I thank you.
I remember during our many rough nights at work. You would bring us croissant and hardboiled eggs the morning after.
I was your favorite “peace offering”. On the serious note, it was a gesture of your thoughtfulness, empathy and compassion.
We will forever miss you.
Safe travels my friend.

To Liz’s family, my heart goes out to you. Please remember that Liz was well loved.

“ My sincere condolences to the family of my dearest Elizabeth. This picture was one of the last times I got to spend time with her before Thanksgiving 2021. We both had purple on, I had to capture it. One of last few times I snuck off my unit to sit with her in her office & try to make her smile while she was trying her best to maintain the amount of work she was given. I have tried to post this for days but the heaviness, heartbreak and shock of losing such a beautiful friend & confidant has almost been too much to grasp, I can't believe my friend is gone. I'm still in disbelief I can't talk to her anymore, or make her laugh, she had the biggest smile, or hear her giving me yet another lecture about staying in the faith when life got unbearable, or hear her rejoicing to the Glory of God when blessings came down we'd both prayed for. She was MORE than just my friend. She was a sister in Christ, she was my supporter, my confidant, my prayer warrior and she always just showed up when I needed her as if God sent her to me each time. She'd just know. I used to tell her all these years that she was my angel on earth. That I know God sent her to me & I always thanked her for being faithful, for being the hands & feet of Christ. She taught me so much about true faith, faith in the darkest moments when I didn't want to go on, she was the truest disciple of God I've ever known. She never complained when things were hard, she would always give God Glory in everything no matter how hard life was and she'd lecture me, quote the Word & pray over me & when I'd complain or cry or doubt, she was tough, brave, fierce & strong. It's hard for me to put into words the loss I feel of losing someone as special as her even though I know she's in heaven now the loss of her is enormous. To this very moment I can't grasp it but in time I know I have to. I'll miss her blunt, honest words..she wasn't one to sugarcoat anything even if it hurt your feelings..that's the type of friend we all need. I will always wish I could've said goodbye but she wasn't having that, but that was her way. I'll miss the love I felt from her. I'll miss my humble, genuine, God fearing friend, I'll miss making her laugh, I'll miss that so much. She'd try to roll her eyes & shake her head at me but then she had to break down & laugh. I loved her so much, she will forever be in y heart. She is now where all of us who believe in Christ yearn to be, just so much sooner than expected. She's rejoicing now & with Christ. I know it's not goodbye, it's really see you in Heaven, when it's my turn to be called home. She was gift to those of us who knew her.

I have that same color uniform AND she LOVED when I wore it. Sometimes I would get dressed at home to come to work and I'd wear my purple thinking " I hope Ms Bayere is at work so she can see me wear her color". I hope she knew how much we thought of her and how much we loved her ❤️

“ My Condolences to the family. Elizabeth was my good friend, she would call me Mama, I assisted her while I was Supervisor and she was the Charge Nurse, she was a great Charge Nurse, helped all of the staff when there were discharges and got them out to ensure she had enough beds to be able to get admissions. When she started her MSN, she came to the office and we would work on her training for Supervision. Always had this great smile on her face, no matter what was going on. I loved her as my sister.

“ During the many years knowing and working with Ms Bayere, there was never a negative moment. A kind, loving, easy going, honest, understanding, and profesional person she was. I know she went through many phases throughout her profesional life at the VA. In the beginning of her journey, when we worked together, in our daily struggles, we would cross our paths in the hallway and I would ask her “is this what you want to do for the rest of your life?”. I remember seeing her in front of a patients room with a huge smile in affirmation. As she moved on and grew in her profesion, she became the assistant nurse manager to my ward. She remained humble, caring, understanding, and all the wonderful things she was before. As the tables turned, Ms Bayere would ask me “is this what you want to do the rest of your life”? AND she would ask me this, with a huge and beautiful smile. Your life was shortened Ms Bayere. I will miss you immensely and I hope to remember you the rest of my life. May you rest peacefully 🙏
