“ Gurlie and fam, I am sad that I could not be there to see tia before she left us but I do know that the last memory I have of her, she was dancing like no one was around, making food like a pro and did not have a care in the world. If I learned anything about tia ema's life, it was to stay happy, be foolish and celebrate your family good or bad.

Also lets not forget she is the ultimate example of being a brassy, single, independent woman not defined by her man but by her unshakable sense of self.

rest in peace tia <3
