

Ethan Joseph Baptiste Gnecco

January 28, 2009 - November 14, 2023

In Loving Memory of our dear Ethan,
Our heart aches as we try to capture the essence of my beloved son, Ethan, who departed from this world far too soon at the tender age of 14. He peacefully slipped away in his sleep, succumbing to a rare heart arrhythmia, leaving a void that feels insurmountable. As we grapple with the reality of his absence, I find solace in celebrating the vibrant life he lived and the love he generously shared with those fortunate enough to know him.

Ethan was more than just a son; he was the radiant joy that illuminated our family. A loving brother to his little siblings and a pillar of strength for his big sister, his spirit, overflowing with warmth and kindness, formed the very foundation of our home. The bonds he forged will endure, resilient against the passage of time.

His connection with his siblings was a treasure. Ethan had a habit of bursting into their rooms, eager to share any good news he had. Whether it was a personal triumph or a shared joy, his infectious happiness spread like wildfire, leaving an indelible mark on those closest to him. The depth of his love for family was unmistakable.

Ethan's quick wit and gift for sarcasm were unparalleled, and he always considered himself the funniest kid in the world. His ability to find humor in every situation reflected his sharp mind and resilient, positive outlook on life. The echoes of his laughter linger in our memories, a testament to the joy he brought into our lives.

His talents knew no bounds. A maestro in programming, computers, and gaming, he also revealed his artistic side as a poet, singer, cook, angler, and avid reader. His hands, skilled in craftsmanship, left tangible expressions of his creativity, building robots, infinite Legos, and every piece of furniture in our home.

Online, Ethan came alive, forming lasting connections with friends who will forever remember his infectious laughter and vibrant personality. Even in our grief, we can still hear him giggling and enjoying life to the fullest with his online companions.

At school, Ethan found passion in subjects like Gym, where he grew stronger through dedication to workouts, as well as in English and Geography, where his enthusiasm for learning shone brightly. He eagerly anticipated a school trip to Japan, nurturing dreams of exploring the land he cherished for its manga and anime.

Above all, Ethan was a content and happy soul. Quiet and introverted in public, he radiated warmth and energy when surrounded by friends and family. Our memories together will forever be etched in our hearts, and his legacy will endure through the stories we tell, the laughter we share, and the love that binds us.

Ethan had this incredible way of communicating with us through just a look. If he disagreed with something we did, we would ask, "What?" and he would respond with that mischievous smile, saying, "Nothing, just looking at you." Our little silent language was a connection only a family could share.

The day before he left us, he surprised us in our office with a case of water and a bag of M&Ms. A simple gesture that spoke volumes about his caring nature. He had an uncanny ability to sense when something was amiss, always finding a way to brighten my day. That is the kind of loving soul he was.

As we navigate the difficult days ahead, let us remember Ethan not with sorrow but with gratitude for the joy he brought into our lives. May his soul find eternal peace and solace in the enduring love that will forever connect us to his beautiful spirit. As we say our goodbyes, let us remember Ethan with smiles that mirror the joy he brought into our lives. Despite the pain, let us also celebrate the incredible person he was—the one who left an indelible mark on each of us. Rest in peace, our sweet Ethan. Your love, laughter, and shared memories will forever be engraved in our hearts.

Dear Friends and Family,

During this impossibly difficult time, we find ourselves overwhelmed with gratitude for the outpouring of support, kindness, and love that you have extended to our family as we navigate the loss of our beloved Ethan. Your presence, whether near or from afar, has been a source of strength that has carried us through the darkest days.

We want to express our heartfelt appreciation for the countless messages, calls, and gestures of sympathy that have poured in. Your words of comfort, shared memories of Ethan, and the warmth you've shown have provided solace and a reminder that we are not alone in our grief.

To those who offered a helping hand, prepared meals, or simply sat with us in silence, your practical acts of kindness have eased the burden of this profound loss. Your compassion and thoughtfulness have touched our hearts in ways that words cannot adequately convey.

The support you've given to our family has been a testament to the beautiful community we are blessed to be a part of. In times of sorrow, it is the strength of relationships and the love of friends and family that carry us forward, and for this, we are eternally grateful.

As I watch this video it brought all the memories and that smile that he would always carry. It's heartfelt and my tears are there with the pain that the family is going through. I still see his brother Liam and it's going to be hard not to cry inside when I see him again when we go back to school. Joseph had a short life in our earth but I could see he had caring parents that gave him and all of them love and attention that some kids don't get .May God continue blessing you all. I will pray for strength because I know it's not easy but heaven needed another Angel 🙏 that was him., he will continue smiling from above . My sincere condolences and love 💕💕Mrs. Santacreu

I remember meeting him during our first bring your child to work day in Sim Lab. He was so proud that his dad was the doctor teaching all of the kids. His bright smile certainly stole the show. He became one of our favorite little guys each year and we loved hearing stories as he grew up from his dad. Our family is sending you all many prayers and hopes of a sense of peace when you remember the moments of his magical life. Sending you tons of love and thoughts, Kelly T
