“ I met Javi while I was driving the bus. Our friendship was immediate. That's the kind of person he was. Goofy, funny, loving. He was a GREAT friend. It's so crazy...you left this earth on my birthday, June 13th. I miss you so much. All the talks we had, whether funny or sad, I was there. I hope you're having a great time in heaven. We'll miss you Fudge. Until we see each other again buddy, watch over us ❤️❤️

“ As I’m sure you can tell, Javier was not only My partner both in life and parenthood, but he was my absolute best friend. Like many couples, we had our ups and downs, but in my eyes, the ups will always overpower everything else. He was an amazing father to our two children. He loved them more than anything else in this world, including pool! (Lol) He was an amazing friend who would give you the shirt off his back. He was the most attentive and caring partner.. never failed to buy me flowers on those special occasions, and even on a regular Tuesday. He was the most amazing, dedicated pool player I’ve ever seen. He always strived to perfect his craft. His attention to detail was impeccable, his drive and focus for anything he set his mind to was incredible. The strength and resilience he held was unimaginable. Every single day he inspires me to be better. A better friend, a better parent and a better person overall. He is so incredibly loved and so incredibly missed. Every day I tell the kids how much he loves them and how proud he was to be their daddy.

“ He was the most amazing and loving father, partner and friend. He loved his little family so much and was so proud of the two little lives he helped create. His laugh was infectious, and his smile was always so genuine and kind. His presence truly lit up any room he walked in.
