“ My deepest sympathy and my prayers are always with you Linda and your family and my prayers are with your mother that she is at peace now in Heaven and she is with her own Mother and Father and all her family and friends that have gone before her. Knowing this that she is happy and with loved ones, she is hoping to give you strength that you get through each day and you become stronger without her as she would want you to be. I will be there for you Linda and if you need anything, do not hesitate to ask! All my love and prayers,
Sharon C.

“ I left a message about June and I can't believe I called her Ruth. I don't know what I was thinking. Please accept my apologies.

“ Dear Fred and Family,

I am so sorry to hear that Ruth has passed away. I didn't know her very well but when I did see her she always had a smile on her face and was quite comical. I remember the last time I saw her, Fred was walking in front of her and when I asked him how he was he said I'm having a terrible day. Ruth was behind him giving him the finger and laughing. I started laughing and I said to her, what did you do to him and all she did was smile. Fred, I know you were a loving husband and always right there to help Ruth in and out of the car and you also always have a smile on your face. I know you will miss her dearly. R.I.P. Dear Ruth. Your friend and neighbor, Maureen McCreesh, Apt. 303

“ The saddest, worst thing happened to me on May 17, 2015. The earth shifted underneath me and the world as I knew it will never be the same. I lost my beautiful Mom to Alzheimer's disease and the last few years have been some of the hardest in my life watching her slowly slip away from us day by day. Alzheimer's is such a horrible, debilitating disease.

When my Mom first got sick the disease progressed slowly but in these past few months it was very sad to see my Mom who once was so lively and full of pep to not be able to stand, walk, feed herself or do many other simple tasks.

Sometimes Mom would get angry with us and I never wanted her to be angry, but the anger was part of the terrible disease. Nonetheless, it still hurt to have someone you love with all your heart be upset with you. But it was understandable that the Alzheimer's was doing this to her.

Mom eventually needed 24 hour supervision because my Dad just couldn't lift her anymore from the couch to the bed to the bathroom to the bed and back again all over again every day and night, he tried so hard to take care of her but his health and well being was also taking a toll on him. He is my true hero for trying so hard to take care of my Mom for all the years that he could until it just became too overwhelming. It was the hardest decision to put her in a 24 hour adult care home for my Dad. I was upset over the idea of my Dad having to put her there but deep down in my heart I knew it was the right decision that he made. I love my Dad so much for all he did for my Mom, he tried his best but his health was in jeopardy so I believe this was truly the best decision to be made. My Dad loved my Mom so much as we all did. It hurt so bad to see my Mom laying in that bed in the adult care home asking to come back home daily. The saddest part of visits was when it was time to leave her to go back home. But it brings me comfort to know that my Dad is bringing her home where he said he can still kiss her goodnight every night and she will always be with him and our entire family.

My Mom will always be in our hearts forever! ❤️

Even though my Mom was getting worse every day she always managed a smile when she saw us and held my hand like she would never let go. I told her that I loved her everyday even when I couldn't be there because she was in Florida. My Dad would call me everyday from the Bethesda adult care home where she had the best of care everyday so I could tell her that I love her and missed her so much. My Mom was my world and my best friend and she always will be.

Saying goodbye forever is completely indescribable to me. It feels like a huge piece of my heart has been ripped out. I know it's going to be a long struggle and every time I see her picture I'll cry, and I'll try to smile on the outside, while heartache consumes me on the inside.

My Mom has always been there for me, through all the good times and bad in my life. She has always been my rock. She always had such courage and determination and so much love in her heart for me and my entire family!

I know that holidays without her are going to be the hardest, I can't even bear to think about that.

My family is my strength and hopefully together we will get through this terrible time.

My Mom would have turned 85 on July 11, 2015. Deep down in my heart I know my Mom wouldn't have wanted to live the way she did anymore. She was always the one helping everyone else, and not the one being helped. She was a strong willed, independent woman.

Even though she was robbed of the last few years because of her horrible, debilitating disease, many would say she lived a long life. It brings me and my entire family comfort knowing she passed peacefully in her sleep and will no longer have to suffer from that awful disease Alzheimer's! Even though at times my Mom couldn't remember my name, she always knew who I was and always told me she loved me as I told her every day and night! She knew how much I loved her! The love between a Mother and Daughter is Forever!

My Mom will forever be in my heart and soul and forever be with me and be a part of me!

Rest in Peace Mommy, you will be forever loved and missed dearly. Until we meet again.

Love Always! ❤️

Your Loving Daughter Linda XOXO
