“ Hello my name is Chenecia I know you don't know me but I wanted to share some encouraging thoughts with you in your time of grief. I know it's not easy living without someone that you truly love and have lost. What gave me comfort was the hope found in god's word the bible at John 5:28,29. This scripture gave me hope that I would get to see my loved one i lost live again. Something else that brought me comfort was the short video that I have attached below. Again my condolences to your family.
