“ I’m deeply saddened by the passing of Mark. He was a kind and unique soul, and I’ll always cherish the memories we shared— watching westerns together, enjoying Chinese food, and our many spirited discussions about politics.

Mark was an amazing patriot who deeply loved his country, and his passion for life and his beliefs was truly inspiring. I wish we had more time to go mining for gold, fishing, and camping as we talked about doing.

Mark’s love for Crystal was unwavering; he often called her his ‘brat’ with such affection that it always brought a smile to my face.

Life is a journey, and while every path has its destination, it often feels like we’re never given enough time with those we love. Mark, I love you, and I’m grateful for the moments we shared along the way.

My thoughts and prayers are with Crystal and her family during this incredibly difficult time. Rest in peace—you’ll be deeply missed but forever remembered.
