

Nancy Jane St. Clair

November 5, 1929 - April 21, 2017

In the words of her family, Nancy Jane Herb St.Clair was: genuine; a beautiful soul; a teacher; a mother; a wife; a Christian Scientist; an artist; a life-long learner; a spiritual leader; a healer; a hard worker; a kind and gentle person that was thoughtful and intentional in all aspects of life; a good cook; a gardener; a "Starvin Marvin" rescuer; a rose bush expert; a classical music lover; a story teller; a good sport; a tennis all-star; and a Scrabble warrior.

She always: put others first; radiated God's love in all facets of her life; had a sense of humor; loved to laugh; had a vivid imagination; made world famous oatmeal...and great mac n cheese too!

Tribute Wall

“ Nancy Jane St. Clair

January 25, 2023 at 07:44 PM

“ It has been a while since the passing. One of the most difficult times for a family after a death is the first anniversary of the loss of their loved one. How can you keep this one alive in your memory? Reflect on the positive things they have done and even imitate them in your life. Be assured that your loved one will not sleep forever in death, the Holy Scriptures tell us "There is going to be a resurrection of both the righteous and the unrighteous."- Acts 24:15 May this scriptures help you to cope with the sadness and grief during this continued time of bereavement.

Dee - May 30, 2019 at 10:31 AM

“ My heartfelt condolences for your loss. Many can relate to what it feels like to be touched by death. What has helped my family to cope were scriptures such as John 5:28,29; Revelation 21:3,4; 1 Peter 5:7. Reading and thinking on these scriptures can help to bring you comfort and strength in the weeks and months to come. Knowing that our loving heavenly Father understands and cares about what you're going through can be a real source of strength. May the God of comfort, comfort you as you mourn the loss of Ms. St. Clair.

Dee - May 15, 2017 at 07:14 AM