“ Growing up Terry was a good friend. We did a lot of surfing, played paddleball and generally just had fun.

Terry had a great sense of humor and a big heart. Best of all he was a loyal friend.

He loved his mom and dad very much... Debbie and his dog Sunday too.

We lost touch when we got older but our experiences still creep into conversations I have with friends from time to time so obviously we had some good times.

My mom and dad always loved Terry and he was always good to them.

I don't know what happened but I'm a bit stunned to hear this news. I'll remember him as that tall strong kid that always made me laugh.

*Condolences,
